Shabbat Update August 7, 2021

Cantor Bessman's Shabbat Update

Dear BCC Membership,

Debbie Lang and I met yesterday to discuss honors for the upcoming High Holy Days. Please let us know if you would like to participate, especially if you think you might be overlooked.

Follows is an abridged version of my August bulletin article. Please note the dates and times. There are a few changes from previous years.

July's board meeting was productive. I am happy to announce that the temple is open, and masks are not required for those who are fully vaccinated. You can also enjoy services from any seat in the sanctuary; come early if you want to secure a seat at the back (those always seem to fill up first). I am unhappy to remind everyone that COVID is with us, and the Delta variant may set us back. Personally, I do not view the promotion of vaccination as a political statement. Vaccinations have my full endorsement. Without them, I could not have lived without fear of Polio, visited Peru

August Calendar of Events

B'er Chayim
Temple is open for in-person services.
Same safeguards
will be in place.

(Yellow Fever), or live without great concern for a shingles outbreak. A few of us may know people who have experienced Polio. We probably know people who have had COVID (some of whom did not survive) and shingles. I know someone who went blind from shingles. With the understanding that many do not trust the safety of the current COVID vaccines, I only ask those who attend services to wear a mask if not vaccinated—you have only one Jewish spiritual leader here in Cumberland. The welfare of the individual and the community are primary values in Judaism.

September is jam-packed with events, both spiritual and secular. As a recent immigrant to these shores of the West Branch of the Potomac, I had no idea how many offerings there are. The secular:

- September 11-12: Heritage Days. It starts with the Whiskey Rebellion the night before. Note: Services on Friday, September 10th, will begin at 6:00 pm so that congregants can enjoy a Shabbat service before making a stand at the Allegany Museum. We do not easily give up our rights in Cumberland. One week later:
- September 16-18: The Appalachian Festival in Frostburg. One week later:
- September 23-26: Delfest (music festival named after Del McCoury of Bluegrass fame).

Not to be outdone, we have various religious events. First, B'er Chayim Congregation communal activities, outside of the temple (and outside):

- Friday, August 20: Shabbat Under the Stars. Bel Air Pavilion with BYOD (bring your own dinner) before the 7:30 pm service. Oneg follows.
- Sunday, August 22: Congregational picnic. Location TBA. 4:30 pm.
- Saturday, September 25: Havdalah. Lakewood Community Pavilion.

From the last Shabbat Update in July:

As a descendent of Moses (in spirit, if not in fact), let me continue the tradition of repetition as I remind everyone that you can find current information on the temple website, Berchayim.org. Not only are the recent Shabbat Updates and the monthly Bulletin archived there, but also the Calendar tab reveals future events. It is a good place to start, even though the information there may be, as most things in life, "subject to change."

See [This Day I Set Before You Blessing and Curse]

Deuteronomy 11:26-16:17

SUMMARY

- God places both blessing and curse before the Israelites. They are taught that blessing will come through the observance of God's laws. (11:26–32)
- Moses' third discourse includes laws about worship in a central place (12:1– 28);
- injunctions against idolatry (12:29– 13:19) Z
- and self-mutilation (14:1–2);
- dietary rules (14:3–21);
- and laws about tithes (14:22-25),
- debt remission (15:1-11),
- the release and treatment of Hebrew slaves (15:12–18),
- and firstlings (15:19-23).
- Moses reviews the correct sacrifices to be offered during the Pilgrim Festivals— Pesach, Sukkot, and Shavuot. (16:1-17)
